

Abstract of the Disclosure

The subject invention pertains to a novel method of correction of behavioral and/or psychological deficits made possible by the intracerebral transplantation of pluripotent neuroepithelial cells. Cells, cell lines, pharmaceutical preparations, medicaments, methods 5 for the production and maintenance of the cell lines for use in the method of the invention are encompassed by the invention.